CLOSER LOOK: Returns to the course on which it all began and she was stabled here from June until November of 2025, so she knows the course well; just 2 starts since last one here and thus improvement potential remains considerable; plenty of speed just to her outside and that may leave plenty of room to maneuver after the opening bell; recognize that she likely needed the 3/14 affair and then consider latest was in the mud; has the potential to do better now for solid connections.

Showed ability last fall and her effort in the Gr. II Demoiselle was better than looked in that she was pressured much of the way by the eventual romping winner perched to her outside; big disappointment in the Feb. 6 stakes at Aqu and nobody from that event has won since, with a few having regressed Beyer-wise; have the strong feeling that this gal will have her hooves quite full with the runner drawn to her immediate outside today; didn't return to the work-tab for nearly 2 months after last start but has drilled regularly and solidly since then.

Everyone knows the usual banter about the inside post in the KY Derby - well consider that this gal had the quickness to deftly dart clear and then select her own path before leading the Oaks field for most of the way - how much did it take out of her?; MAYbe she wins the Oaks from a wider draw?; at any rate she figures very tough when cutting back to a sprint distance; only sprint loss was in a Gr. I to a barnmate whose only subsequent loss was in the Breeders' Cup; nobody else in this group has come nearer than 4 points from this gal's latest Beyer and she's licensed to be a better sprinter than may be the case over 9 furlongs; hard to top.

Faces six foes here and already lost to three of those but she's lightly-raced, well-bred and in strong hands while the May workout routine is encouraging; she will definitely have to improve some to take the measure of all of these but she does have speed figures trending northward every time while her last fast-track sprint was in January; plenty of maturity possible since last seen in a sprint on a fast strip and she should be able to relax off of a lively early tempo for a new pilot.

 She's been getting to post in steady fashion with latest score in the slop in a race for non winners of a sweepstakes - speed figures on the rise although she seems a giant step away from what would be needed to win here; daughter of Vekoma also seems somewhat dependent upon the early tempo being to her liking; rain obviously wouldn't hurt her chances as she has already made the exacta in four starts on wet tracks; thinking she is going to need some help from fate or racing luck to get the job done at a track where she has finished in front in both opportunities.

 Raced wide and finished well behind Explora in the KY Oaks and now cuts distance in search of initial sprint score; August debut found this one well behind Bottle of Rouge, who went on the win the Dmr Debutante when a length to the good of Explora; that was this gal's first start, and it sidelined her for 6 months, so can't be too harsh; filly who topped this gal in SA Oaks did distinguish herself with a runner-up in the KY Oaks; McCarthy trainee gets new jock today and starts outside away from traffic ; it remains to be learned whether she can stay within earshot in the early going as she has only previously sprinted against maidens. -George Cottrell

After a decent 3rd in KEE's G3 Lexington he took a swing at the G1 Preakness May 16; OK, that was likely too much too soon as he was never really involved; in his defense, a lousy post and sluggish start didn't help, particularly as speed has been his best weapon when routing; on paper it's a drop but he still faces a few of the division hotshots so in reality there's not much class relief; at least worked well since his last and again that speed can have him prominent from the start, though how long he stays there is a big question.

Got a shot at a G1 in just his 2nd start at OP March 28 and handled himself well, stalking and staying on for 3rd, though he was no match for big winner (eventual G1 Ky. Derby 2nd Renegade); tried a tough allowance bunch at CD on the Derby undercard and ran on decently for 4th, though that won't make those who made him the 6-5 favorite feel any better; at least it gives him a feel for the track, the Beyer represented another move forward and his HOF trainer feels good enough about him to give him another stakes shot so there are some things to like.

After all the hemming and hawing by players they made this guy the tepid favorite for the G1 Ky. Derby; sure, he was only 11th but he made a nice move into the far turn to reach contention and then got banged around and jostled and it was all over after that; sure, his 2 KEE outings jump off the page, but note a G2 SW on this track at this trip in the fall so while he LOVES KEE he's capable here; worked well since the Derby, figures to stalk and pounce and thus be more than a little scary, so long as the Derby didn't take too much out of him.

No factor at any point in that G1 turf race on the Derby undercard here but a lousy post and slow start didn't help; of course, he was 73-1 so it's not as if much was expected; still facing some toughies here while trying dirt for the first time; at least bred for it as daddy was a multi-year dirt male champ and this guy cost a bundle so there were expectations from the start; showed some quality on synthetic so there's talent here, but the footing is a hurdle as are the far-outside draw and some stout rivals. -Michael Hammersly

The winner from last repeated in a CD optional claimer with an 86 Beyer; Baffert is always tough with lightly raced runners as more was expected from his favored unveiling where he checked in behind Find No Fault; good works for this but will it be enough to turn the tables?; view as an exotics possibility.

Raced to the more than 53-1 debut odds passing a few rivals too late while today's added furlong should be a welcomed edition and perhaps even more distance down the road will be needed to graduate; worked well before his debut then had a good half mile breeze for this; underneath in the exotics.

Primed for this at longer getting the shortest distance test of career for his return to CD dirt where his unveiling produced a career-low Beyer; major pace presence racing on the lead in 2 in a row and would think if he gets loose on an easy lead the win hopes increase.

Back on CD dirt where he posted his best finish ever however was facing much lesser maiden claimers and at 1.5F longer than this; raced on the lead in 4 of 5; view as a pace presence for part; did not have much success sprinting to begin career but should find 7 panels more to his liking; off the layoff will be taking a wait and see approach. -Art Gropper
